

BrightWork 365 Product Roadmap

We realize it is helpful to have access to a BrightWork 365 Product Roadmap to learn the planned direction of the solution, including the types of features the development team is hoping to add. Below are our current near-term planned priorities, taken from our backlog and informed by conversations with customers.

Project Tasks Grid & Gantt

- We're working on a new project tasks Grid to allow users to manage their Work Breakdown Structure independently while synchronizing with the Gantt.

Lessons Learned

- Addition of a new Lessons Learned project tab so that users can capture learnings from a project at any time.

Rich Text Fields

- Introduction of Rich Text Fields to enhance user captured details in all free text fields.

Updated Percent Complete Slider

- A new Percentage Complete slider is getting added to BrightWork 365 to replace the existing deprecated slider. This new slider will match existing functionality but also allow for iterative improvements in future releases.

Project Settings

- In order to support user interface improvements, the Project Settings tab for Project Managers and PMO Managers is getting merged with the Project Settings form within Schedule Settings. Schedule Settings will also receive several updates including a rename and reordering of the forms to better suit customer usage and access.
